Fastener grade: know before you fix

Two bolts can appear identical on the rack, yet the grade marking determines whether you are holding a structural or standard-grade fixing. Using the wrong one is among the fastest ways to fail an inspection.

4.6

ZINC

The same mild steel with a bright electroplated finish. Internal, dry applications only: zinc gives little protection once weather reaches it.

4.6

GALVANISED

Mild steel, 400 MPa tensile. The standard choice for tie-down and general framing work where the fastener carries hold-down load, not structural load.

8.8

HIGH TENSILE

Medium-carbon, quenched and tempered to 800 MPa. Specify it wherever an engineer has nominated a structural connection or a fastener in tension.

304

STAINLESS

The general-purpose stainless grade. Good for external and wet-area work inland, but not suited in coastal salt-spray zones.

316

STAINLESS

Highest corrosion resistance. Required within the coastal salt-spray zone and in any wet or chemically exposed area.

THREE CHECKS BEFORE YOU FIX

- Read the grade mark on the head or rod end, not the bin label
- Match the nut and washer grade to the bolt or rod, otherwise the assembly rates to the weakest part
- Never mix galvanised and stainless where moisture reaches the joint

Know Your Coating: gal, bright or zinc

The finish on a Screw / Nail decides how long your structure will last. Incorrectly applied products can lead to serious structural integrity loss.

Bright / Zinc

BARE STEEL

Bright, Zinc and Electro Galvanised are commonly used internally for frame and ply bracing applications. Bright is minimal to zero coating, Zinc and Electro Galvanised have a thin layer of plated coating to provide Temporary protection.

Galvanised

HOT DIP COATING

A thick zinc layer that sacrifices itself before the steel does. The choice for external framing, decking, fencing, pine framing and anything that will meet weather. Available in Class 3, 4 and manufacturer specific ratings

Treated Timber

HIGH-GRADE COATING

Perfect for treated pine and external applications in harsh exposure to the elements. Certain manufacturers such as Simpson Strong-Tie and Otter offer specialised coated Treated Timber screws for heavy-duty, long-lasting applications.

Stainless

304 / 316

The only finish that holds up in coastal salt spray, in poolside work and against tannin-rich hardwoods such as cedar and blackbutt.

TREATED PINE WARNING

Modern timber treatments can strip electroplated zinc rapidly, even Hot-dip Galvanised won't cut it in H5 / H6 treated timber. Timber which has high exposure to moisture has a higher grade of treatment which can rapidly strip standard coatings. Unsure what to use - talk to our team today 07 3899 8004

Certified, or it doesn't go on the shelf

Every fastener we supply is Australian rated and certified: a documented test path, a compliant marking, and a supply chain we can trace when a certifier asks the question on your site.

Tested to standard

Products are tested against Australian and international standards. We only source from reputable brands which manufacture under widely recognised AS & ISO standards.

Marked and traceable

Certified fasteners carry a grade or certification mark. Unmarked products are the first thing a building certifier questions,

NCC aligned

The National Construction Code (NCC) is reviewed regularly, durability and connection requirements move with it. We track those changes so your specification stays current.

Documented on request

Ask and we'll supply the technical specifications and test report documentation for the materials you purchased.

ASK US FOR

Tech data sheets and product specific test reports

WATCH FOR

Unmarked heads, mixed grades in one carton, no traceable batch

TALK TO US EARLY

Our freindly team is hapy to help source the correct product for your application

OUR STORY

25 years, one family, same promise

The Archer family started Fasteners Direct to fix a problem they kept meeting on site: the right fastener was never where the job was. Twenty-five years later we're still family owned, still in Brisbane, and still measuring ourselves by whether the box reached the site before the crew needed it.

WHAT HASN'T CHANGED

Honesty, transparency, respect and reliability are the values the business was built on, and they still decide how we answer the phone. Whether the order is one box of brads or a full frame package, you deal with people who know the product and remember the job.

WHO WE SUPPLY

Residential builders, commercial contractors, fencing contractors, civil / plumbing contractors and custom fabricators across South East Queensland.
